

CrowdStrike Partner Award Winners Recognized at Annual Europe Partner Symposium

VENICE, Italy--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May 23, 2024-- CrowdStrike (Nasdaq: CRWD) today announced the winners of the annual CrowdStrike Europe Partner Awards at the CrowdStrike Partner Symposium in Venice, Italy. The Europe Partner Symposium brings together leading regional partners to accelerate strategies to scale their businesses, help their customers consolidate security spend and most importantly stop breaches with the AI-native CrowdStrike Falcon® XDR platform.

CrowdStrike's annual Europe Partner Symposium Awards recognise the remarkable work regional partners have accomplished in the previous calendar year. The partner ecosystem is critical to the success of CrowdStrike's partner-first go-to-market strategy, delivering continued growth through providing industry-leading protection to customers in Europe and around the world. Winning partner organizations were judged based on criteria that included the value the organization or individual created and delivered to both mutual customers and CrowdStrike.

2024 CrowdStrike Europe Partner Awards winners include:

- BT – European GSI Partner of the Year
- Henning Dey from PMCS – European Channel MVP
- Exaprobe – European Rising Star Partner of the Year
- Kudelski Security – European MSSP Partner of the Year
- Computacenter GmbH – Central European Partner of the Year
- Telefonica Tech Spain – Southern European Partner of the Year
- Softcat – Northern European Partner of the Year
- AWS – Strategic Market Maker Award

“The Europe Partner Symposium provides the opportunity to recognise the amazing achievements our partners have accomplished in the past year. The Falcon platform's ability to consolidate and simplify cybersecurity combined with the expertise of our partners is delivering unprecedented results to joint customers – congratulations to all of this year's winners,” said John Taylor, VP of Alliances, Europe at CrowdStrike. “We look forward to another banner year working closely together as we continue expanding across Europe and around the world on our joint mission to stop breaches leveraging the power of the world's best security platform.”
