CrowdStrike Named a Leader in Cybersecurity Incident Response Services by Independent Research Firm

AUSTIN, Texas--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jun. 10, 2024-- CrowdStrike (Nasdaq: CRWD) today announced that it has been named a Leader in The Forrester Wave™: Cybersecurity Incident Response Services, Q2 2024 "A product powerhouse in detection and response tech, CrowdStrike's unwavering mission and vision are to stop breaches," said the report.

The powerful combination of the industry-leading CrowdStrike Falcon® cybersecurity platform and its elite services team deliver the speed and visibility required to rapidly investigate an incident, eject the adversary from the environment and limit the impact of a breach. By leveraging expertise gained from responding to some of the world's most damaging cyber incidents, CrowdStrike helps organizations harden their environments and meet post-incident disclosure standards. The Forrester report states that "CrowdStrike is a fit for security and risk leaders concerned about nation-state-level threats and looking for top threat intelligence capabilities in addition to top tech for ongoing monitoring, detection, and response support post-incident."

"The frequency and sophistication of today's attacks threaten business continuity, consumer confidence, and financial and regulatory risk. Organizations need a comprehensive response strategy that minimizes breach impact and fulfills regulatory obligations post-incident," said Tom Etheridge, chief global services officer at CrowdStrike. "Our unique combination of the industry's most elite team of experts, the best platform and an unmatched understanding of the modern adversary equips organizations with the capabilities they need to effectively respond to ongoing incidents, strengthen their defenses against future breaches and meet any disclosure requirements."
